is by magnificent mountains, the scenery is lilusion. beautiful, and the beholder gazes with admiration on the location.

I proceeded at once to the Courthouse. where I found a motion pending for a con-tinuance of the case until the next term of the Circuit Court. The judge over-ruled the application and postponed the case until the pert day at 12 o'clock. Attachments were issued against the absent witnesses, and the Court adjourned until the next day.

On Tuesday, at the appointed bour, the Sherif returned with attachmente, reporting that two of the absent witnesses were sick, and the third absent from the State. Anoth er motion was made by the defence for a continuance, which was argued at length, and granted by the Court. Mesers. Menifee and lebbs appeared for the prosecution, and Messrs. Scott, Turner, Hackley, Moffett, and Junes for the prisoner.

You must permit me to return thanks for the many acts of kindness bestowed upon me, and for the facilities afforded your correspondent by the officers of the Court and the bar, in order that he might discharge the duty that brought him bither.
I must not forget the Lady's Fair, which was in progress. The members and congregation of the Presbyterian Church, are erecting a handsome and commodious bouse of wiship, and the ladies, with a zeal peculiar to them, went to work to raise money for its completion. Of course, I attended the fair and of course I enjoyed myself. The artangements were perfect-all things that could gratify the eye or please the taste, were to be had upon reasonable terms, and the success which attended the effort, evinced the liberality of the citizens of the village.

Never will I forget my visit to this place; perer can I crase from my memory the hostitality of this people; never will the bright eyes and pretty faces of the fair daughters of Rappahannock, pass from my memory. All I ask of them is that upon my next visit bey will keep the dogs chained.

MARRIED.

In Washington, on Tuesday, 5th instant, by the Rev. Mr. Morsell, THOMAS BENTON RECTOR of Fauquier county, Va, to Miss MARY L. WEBER, of Washington.

OBITUARY. At her residence, in Alexandria county, Va., the morning of the 26th of September, Mrs. BELINDA FEEREY, in the 63d year of her ete departed this life in peace. She left a husband and three children, and a numerous circle of relatives and friends, to mourn their irrepartile loss. As a mother, she was ever loving and affectionate; as a parent, kind and indulgent; as a friend, warm hearted and generous. In fact, in her it may be truly said was centered all the virtues which go to make up the perfect Christian. The void made by her death will not be easily filled. The grief occasioned by her eparture, time may assuage, but her memory will remain tresh in the minds of her many mends and relatives, until, to them, time shall be no more. To her bereaved husband and chiloren their present affliction has been sore inded but it has been the lasting gain of her. Her battle with life is ended, her soul is at rest, let all prepare to meet her in that better land, where parting shall be no more.

A nappy spirit in the world of light, Is our darling mother now; A sparkling gem in the coronet That decks the Saviour's brow. Her voice is tuned in a ceaseless strain, And she strikes the lyre of love;

In her blessed hands she bears a palm, Eetore the tarone above. LOCAL ITEMS.

COUNTY COURT - A. Woodruff & Robin-Saturday, in hearing the arguments of couneel on points of law, and in examining witpesses in this case, which was contined until to-day. Brent and Kinzer for the plaintiffs, T. T. Hill, L B. Taylor, H. W. Thomas, and F. L. Smith for defendants.

at 10 o'clock.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT .- ARTHUR, an interesting little son of Mr. Fairfax H. Whithis father's residence, on St. Asaph, between Duke and Wolfe streets, on Friday afternoon last, when about ten feet from the ground, fell, striking his head on the left side causing a concussion of the brain. He lingered until 12 o'clock that night when he died. Arthur was about 8 years old, and was a general favorite with all who knew him. This melancholy accident has caused the deepest grief to his parents and a numerous circle of relations and friends.

THE CANAL -- During last week the receipts of toils at the Georgetown Collector's Office of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal. amounted to $2,595. Ascending trade $270, Descending, $2,325.

REDUCTION IN THE FREIGHT ON GUANO .-•$9,518,907 98 The Central Railroad Company have reduced the freight charge on Gaano from Gordonsville to Charlottesville, from $2.85 per ton to $1 70.

> ASTR NOMICAL .-- We had the pleasure a few evenings since, of examining a number of the most interesting objects, at present it from a remable source, $354; and if it were visible in the heavens, by the aid of the fine wound up this day and the circulation retelescope belonging to our friend Caleb S. tired, it would redeem upwards of $43,000 NOTICE-EXHIBITION OF THE UNITED Hallowell.

The Comet, of course, claimed our first attention. This body, so striking to the eye, is somewhat shorn of its brilliancy when 154,007 97 viewed under high telescopic power-for not only is the tail, owing to its immense length almost completely cut off from the field of view, but the undefined and misty nature of the nucleus itself is very clearly exhibited. In fact, the telescope not only largely dispels all preconceived notions as to the formidable character of our visitor, but goes far towards _ $154,007 97 proving, in the opinion of some persons, that the whole is but a vast collection of graphically the manners, customs and habits coming members in Richmond.

The Comet having been fully observed, the magic tube was directed to the planet Venus, now the beautiful Evening Star-Her appearance was beautifully bright, much like that which the Moon in her first quarter presents to the naked eye. The contiguity ces on Monday week -- Nat. Int. of the Planet to the horizon, was said, on the present occasion, somewhat to obscure her brilliancy, and from the same cause, too, ber disc was said to be rather less sharply defined than it would have been under more favorable circumstances.

From Venus, our attention was next called to an object far out in the regions of space. which sent out a small and faint glow of light, as if it were a feeble star struggling to show itself through a veil of mist.

The telescope was directed upon this, and lo! a glorious vision burst upon the view.

The nebula was resolved, and what before had seemed a dull and teeble star now stood out before the eye a beautiful Cluster of stars -not, however, as stars usually appear, but surrounded by, and intermingled with faint lights, and dark spaces of irregular figure, the whole presenting one of the most interesting of celestial of jects.

Other nebulæ were, also, observed-then a number of fine double stars, the planet Mars, and later in the evening, old Jupiter just coming plainly into view, with his belts and moone.

The entertainment altogether was a most dolightful one, in every particular. The telescope of our friend is truly a beautiful instrument; it is one constructed by Fitz, of New York. It rests on a pier of masonry, and is equatorially mounted and graduated. so as to enable the observer to direct the tube to any of ject in the heavens whose position is known, although invisible to the naked eye. Besides this, it has a most convenient appendage in what is called a clock movement, by means of which, when once the instrument is directed to a colestial object, it follows the object throughout the entire observation without further adjustment on the part of the observer. On descending from the Observatory, we asked ourselves for whom was made all this brightness and beauty? Truly, if man be not, by a contemplation of the heavens, made wiser and better for him these glories have been made in vain!

MARSHALL HOUSE RESTAURANT. - From this well known and excellent establishment, we received on Saturday last, a specimen of the good things now in season, and to be had, at all hours, served by that best of cooks, John Crier, under the superintendance of the gentlemanly proprietor, Mr. Amos Fox, viz:-Blue Wing Duck, Sora and Oysters, with all the necessary condiments. PANCRAMIC VIEWS OF AUSTRALIA AND CHI-NA .- We have had the pleasure of seeing the exhibition of Boneau's Magnificent Panoramic Views of Australia and the Celestial Empire, at Liberty Hell. The painting is said to cover over twenty thousand feet of canvass, and has drawn upon it, about twentyfive hundred life-sized figures, delineating here interesting countries. Beautiful rivers, dushing catarects, fearning billows, stormtossed vessels, lightning and thunder, rain and sun-shine, mountains and valleys, flocks, fields, and shepherds, cities, and villages, palaces and cottages, cities by moon-light, buildings in flames, lords, nobles, and beggars, are all delineated to the life.

Long Bridge.-The Long Bridge has been substantially repaired and placed in a condition to withstand the usual storms and floods of winter. At the east end of the bridge a new draw lodge is in course of erection, the old one, which had become almost uscless by age and long occupation, having been recthe draw with a passing vessel, which n only finished the venerable draw house, but caused considerable damage to the draw .--
